Regional library set

Regional library service will begin in Letcher County on July 1, the Division of Library Extension at Frankfort announced today.

The program will mean for Letcher County a new book mobile with more than double present bookmobile capacity, $45,000 worth of additional books, and introduction of a film and phonograph record library service.

Letcher and Pike Counties will make up the library region, and headquarters will be in Pike County. The program is financed by a federal grant to the State Division of Library Extension, which in turn appropriates money for operation of the regional library.

The purpose of the regional program is to help counties establish sound, growing libraries for use of the people of the area. The grant money does not replace local funds but is available on a continuing basis for several years, after which local support has to keep the program in operation.

Sherwood Kirk, assistant director of Library Extension for the state, was in Whitesburg this week to talk with members of the Letcher County Library Board concerning the regional program.

He stressed the need for continued local financial support from county and school boards of both Letcher and Pike Counties. Federal aid is based on participation of the local agencies, he said, and "would be withdrawn immediately should present local budgets be cut by as much as one dime." This means Board of Education and Fiscal Court appropriations to the Letcher County Public Library and the Jenkins Public Library will have to be at least as much next year as they were this year or the state and federal money will not be available to Letcher County and the regional program would go down the drain.

Another step on the road to a regional library program has been taken with the appointment of Miss Clara Shaw of Jenkins to membership on the Letcher County Board. Announced by County Judge Arthur Dixon, this appointment links the county library at Whitesburg and the Jenkins Public Library operated by the Woman's Civic Club of Jenkins in a cooperative development of the county's library resources.

Effects of the new program are expected to be far-reaching.

John R. Whisman, Kentucky's representative on President Kennedy's committee considering proposals for depressed areas legislation, told the Whitesburg Rotary Club Tuesday he feels effective federal help "is coming down the road" for Eastern Kentucky. Whisman here chats with Ray Collins, Whitesburg Mayor Ferdinand Moore, Dick Story, Jenkins, and Woodrow Dawahare, Whitesburg.

New A&P opens at Neon

A & P Food Stores' new supermarket on Main Street in Neon was in full operation today after a gala grand opening.

A group of officials headed by Vice President Byron Jay, Field Superintendent H.A. Ledford, Personnel Manager L.J. Jones, Meat Superintendent C.V. Magruder, Supervisor Forrest Adams and Sales Manager R.H. Ruebenstahl were on hand for the opening ceremonies.

A special program of awards and giveaways has been planned to mark the grand opening. Top awards include a portable TV set and G.E. radios. There were also free raincoats for women and balloons and candy suckers for children on opening day.

Completion of the new building highlights more than 30 years of A & P business in Neon. The new store will replace the present location on Main Street and will provide almost double the amount of floor space.

Vice President Jay said the new air conditioned store was designed to conform to findings of a comprehensive survey of the food needs of consumers in Neon and Letcher County.

"We hope," he said, "Consumers in this area will be as proud and as pleased with what they see in this store as we are."

One of the highlights of the new store is a self-service meat department incorporating a new-type refrigerated production conveyor for the preparation of meat items.

"Self-service meat departments like this one have been the biggest hit of post-war food shopping," said Vice President Jay. "Housewives find this new system affords them the widest possible selection of quality meats."

Approximately 60 feet of refrigerated cases will be used to display a full line of fresh and smoked meats, poultry and fish.

Another department of particular interest to the busy housewife is the frozen foods department, which will carry a comprehensive line of fresh frozen fruits and vegetables, juices and ice cream.

Space has been liberally used inside to enable each department to stock a full line of merchandise. A total of 31 feet has been allocated for the bakery department, which will stock the famed line of Jane Parker breads, cakes, cookies, doughnuts, sweet rolls, pastries and other items.

Countless other features mark the outside and inside of the new A & P. Quick and efficient shopping characterizes the design and layout of the new store. In addition to four regular check-

East Kentucky highway will be started Saturday

Ground breaking ceremonies for the Eastern Kentucky Toll Road will take place Saturday, February 25th, at Winchester, sponsored by the Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission. The event will initiate construction of the Winchester-Campbell four-lane road.

Ceremonies will take place on the turnpike right-of-way just outside Winchester after a lunch served at noon in Winchester. Ground breaking time is 2 p.m.

B.F. Reed, Chairman of the Eastern Kentucky Planning Commission, cited the "courageous and creative leadership of Governor Norbert Combs and Lt. Governor Wilson W. Wyatt as making the road possible."

Reed said, "There has been a constant agreement among our people that a basic requirement for development of our mountain counties must consist of a well planned and broadly conceived highway system."

"The breaking of ground on this turnpike is a historic event for Eastern Kentucky," he said.

The Whitesburg Chamber of Commerce is organizing a motorcade to the groundbreaking. For information, call Martin Dawahare.

Whitesburg High lists best in scholarship

Jackets edge past Fleming

by Pete White

With a capacity crowd of 1,700 students and fans, the Whitesburg Yellowjackets in a close battle defeated the Fleming-Neon Pirates by a score of 33-32. It was estimated that there were more fans to see this game than any since 1959.

At tip of time with a fast break, Kyle Raleigh opened the scoring with the first bucket. During the first period of action the Pirates managed to get only one basket, while the Yellowjackets scored 12. The second period the Pirates were hot. With about three minutes to go in the half they had cut the margin to 1 point, 13-14. At the end of the half the score was 17-19.

The second half was a close a half as anyone would want to see. During the third period the Pirates had tied the score 22-all. The rebounding strength of J.D. Jones pushed the Jackets to a 26-23 lead at the end of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter was little scoring and hard fighting by both teams. The Pirates came within one point of the Jackets but failed on three tries at the basket. Scoring for the Yellowjackets were Kyle Raleigh 14; J.D. Jones 6; Steve Stamper 5; Paul Younts and Jerry Coots 4 each. The high point men for the Pirates were Claude Tolliver, 9; James Milch and Jan Anderson, 6 each.

Return from trip

by A. J. Arrington

Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Arrington have just returned from a trip to Huntington, W. Va., where they have been visiting relatives, in particular Mr. Arrington's nephew, Ted E. Arrington, who has just undergone a serious operation for cancer of the stomach. He seems to be recovering rapidly, but we all know the old cancer is very treacherous and can sneak back on one at any time.

Ted will be remembered by his Jenkins friends as assistant manager of Jenkins store several years ago - having left there about 1922 and accepted a position with Brown Williamson Tobacco Co., with which firm he has been a successful salesman for 37 years. His wife will be remembered as Arravelva (Jack) McLaughlin, who was employed in the office at Old No. 3 store.

Mr. and Mrs. D.A. Kinser had as their dinner guests Sunday the following relatives: Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Arrington, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kinser and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Franklin and children, Keith, Lina Lee and David Byrl, all from Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fike, Mr. and Mrs. Calloway Hamlin and children, Gregg and Nanette, from Pikeville.

Lenore and Mary prepared a most delicious dinner while Uncle Dave and Lina went to church. The beef roast gravy was out of this world, how far out, just ask Bob Fike.

All in all it was a wonderful meal and fellowship, enjoyed by God's people.

BORN IN FEBRUARY? You're in good company. So were such "greats" as George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson, Charles Lindbergh and Babe Ruth—to mention only a few.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL, another Great American whose birthday comes in March, was spurred on to invent the telephone through his interest in helping deaf persons. We think Mr. Bell would be happy to know about a recent development of Bell Laboratories—the electronic larynx which makes speech possible to those who have lost their larynxes and ability to speak. The electronic larynx is available to those who need it at just what it costs to produce. For more information, inquire at our Business Office.

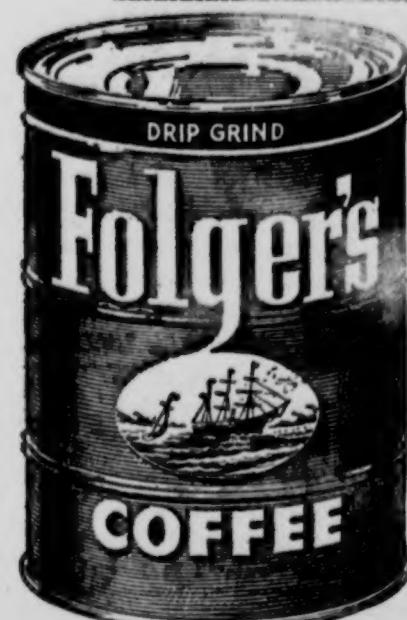

JUST BECAUSE YOU WANT TO . . . is a good enough reason to pick up the phone and enjoy a Long Distance visit. Someone you've been missing—youngsters off at school, a relative who lives far away. Versatility required of modern store head

A familiar figure is directing A & P's new store which opened Wednesday in Neon. Robert V. Adams, former manager at the old store will continue in this capacity at the new location on Main Street.

Talking with Adams about his career with A & P gives you some idea of what it takes to manage a food department store.

You will find it takes a lot of doing, including a few matters which, at first glance, seem to have little to do with the main job of ordering, displaying and selling food to Neon consumers.

Adams, who started with A & P as a clerk back in 1947, possesses the qualities required to manage a modern food department store selling upwards of 3,500 different items.

From Adams' own experience with A & P, it would seem the supermarket manager must have authoritative knowledge and experience in the store's main operations -- meat, produce, dairy, coffee, bakery, frozen foods and candy. And if he has a store as complete as the new Neon market he must also know how to handle and merchandise health and beauty aids and non-food items.

But he must function successfully, also, in the fields of diplomacy, education, research and agriculture.

Adams has had just about all he could handle the past couple of weeks, alternating between his former location and setting up the departments in the new store. At the new store, he worked with tradesmen, supervised stock crews and handled a multitude of other details in preparation for the grand opening.

To sell that stock to consumers at the peak of its quality and freshness in accordance with A & P's low-price policy is Adams' prime responsibility.

Like other A & P managers, Adams helps in planning the company education of his staff. All store employees including managers participate in the company's intensive training program which fits them for promotion and enlarged responsibilities. When Adams uncovers a promising young employee, he recommends him for further training.

Adams believes present day consumers are tending strongly to prepared and semi-prepared foods such as prepackaged meats, fish and produce, frozen foods, brown and serve rolls and cake mixes. "These items save the housewife time and effort," he says.

A native of Whitesburg, Adams first started with the food chain as a part time clerk in the Neon store. He was also dairy department head in the Harlan store for approximately six years prior to his promotion to manager of the Neon store in 1958. A veteran of World War II, he spent two years in the U.S. Navy.

Adams is married to the former Ona Blaine Quiffen of Neon. They have three children, Phillip, 11; Michael, 8, and Linda, 3.

CECIL HOLBROOK HEAD STOCK CLERK

Cecil Holbrook, former head stock and receiving clerk in A & P's former location, will continue in this capacity in the new store.

Holbrook has spent his entire 10 years with the food chain in the Neon store, having served in various departments prior to his promotion to head stock and receiving clerk in 1956.

A veteran of World War II, Holbrook served in the U.S. Air Force in India, Burma and China.

He is married to the former Juanita Webb of Millstone. They have four children, Cecilia, 11; Glennis, 9; Dwight, 5, and Julia, 1.

BOUNTY FOR BABY -- Row upon row of baby food lines part of one counter. The new store will have 26 employees, an increase of 10 over the old one. A & P has been in Letcher County since the 1920's.

PRIZES AND PRODUCE -- Prizes to be given away during A & P's grand opening celebration are on display atop the produce counter at the new Neon store. (Salad greens, by the way, are on a refrigerated counter.) Similar prizes are to be given away at the Whitesburg store.

Self-service meat provided in new store

A veteran of more than 10 years experience in meat operations will head the self-service meat department in A & P's new Neon store.

This department, one of the major features in the new store, is headed by Grant Stallard, who has served in the same capacity for approximately eight years in the store's former location.

Stallard first started with the food chain in 1949 as a part time clerk in Whitesburg. He served in various capacities of company stores in Whitesburg, Cumberland and Barbourville prior to coming to Neon in March, 1953. He was first promoted to meat department head in 1950 in Cumberland.

The new packaging setup is located directly behind the meat display cases and will operate in full view of customers. Customers can observe the care with which meat is processed and packaged. The refrigerated production line also eliminates the former need for low-temperature processing rooms where employees had to wear protective clothing.

Stallard is firmly convinced that one of the basic reasons for the success of A & P operations is the company policy which requires all of its meat, fish and poultry to be "The best obtainable."

This policy of buying meat is the foundation stone on which rests the quality of A & P's Super Right meats.

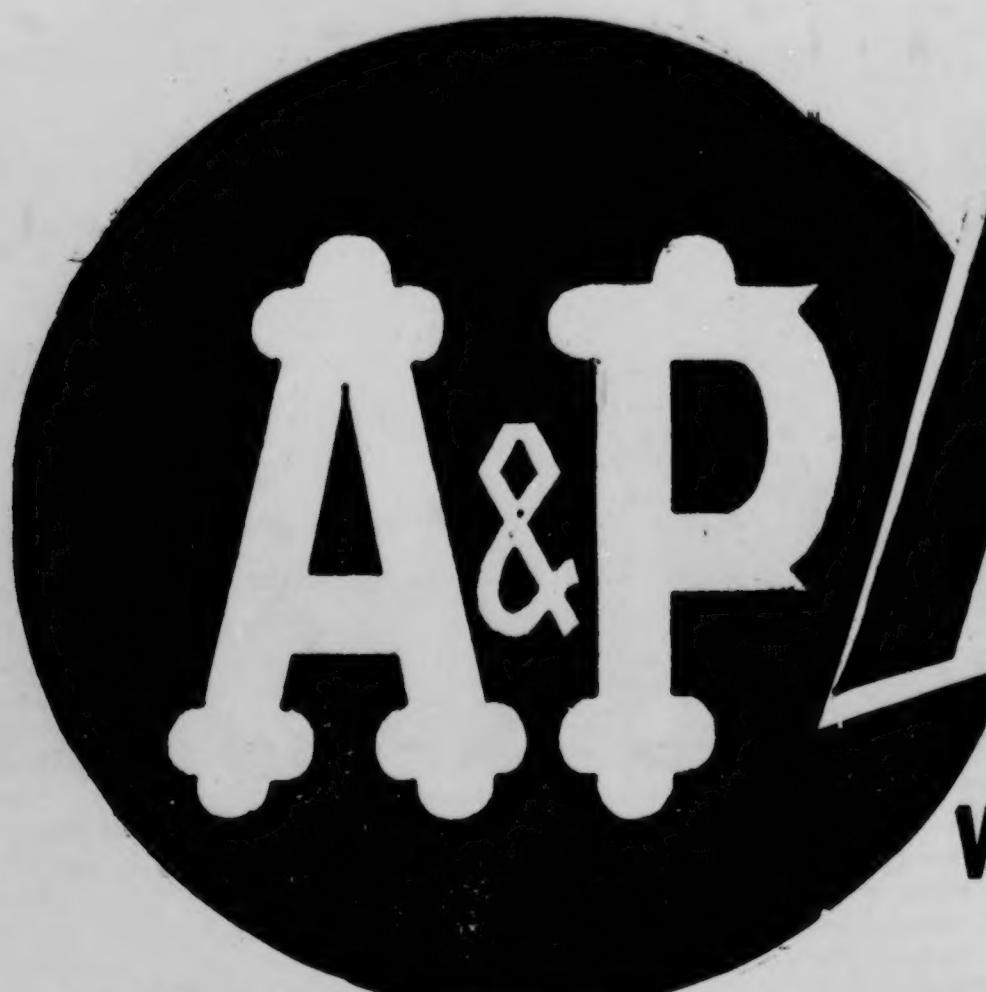

Stallard's responsibility is to protect that original quality by seeing to it that cuts and trims are uniformly standardized. He also must order and display wisely so that meat reaches the customer fresh and attractive.

When A & P labels a steak as tops in quality, for example, it must be just that. Less desirable cuts are sold at lower prices.

Naturally enough, Stallard becomes most enthusiastic when he talks about packaging meat, fish and poultry.

"All of our meats in the whole line from rib roasts to cold cuts are on display in these wonderful, open-type display cases," he says. "This setup enables the housewife to obtain exactly the cut and weight she wants in a few minutes. She is the best judge of what she wants and this system helps her to get it without fuss or loss of time."

By the way, if you ever want a steak or other choice cuts prepared to specifications for a special dinner occasion, see this same Grant Stallard. He's the man who can fix it for you.

50th SHOT FINALLY KILLS TOUGH FOX

by Fred Hughes

Mrs. Beckie Webb is very ill at her home on Dryfork. Mrs. Webb is 92 years old.

Paul Caudill and Pauline Brown were married here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Banks and son, David, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Banks Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tyree have moved back here from Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hughes were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Banks this week.

The UZ Sunday School had 41 present Sunday. Hotspot 38.

Wess Banks and Charlie Banks killed a big fox that got in the chicken lot and couldn't get out. It killed four big hens. Charlie fired 23 shots and Wess 17 shots before they killed it.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Blair attended the funeral of Mrs. Antana Day last Monday. The Day family lived in this neighborhood for several years.

Letcher private 'trainee of week'

An Army private from Letcher, was recently selected as "Outstanding Trainee of the Week" at the US Army Training Center, Armor, Fort Knox, Ky.

Pvt. Eugene Fields, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harve Fields, Letcher, was chosen top trainee of the fourth regiment for the week of December 12, 1960.

Picked from several prospective candidates, final determination of Pvt. Fields was based on training achievement, military discipline, bearing, appearance and courtesy.

Resulting from his accomplishments, Pvt. Fields received the personal congratulations of Colonel Joseph A. McChristian, Commanding Officer of the Training Center, in a private interview. After discussing his Army life and training with the colonel, he was awarded a 24-hour pass.

Entering the Army October 26, 1960, for a three year period he had served previously with the 511th Airborne Regiment, Infantry, Fort Campbell, Ky. He is now in his fourth week of Basic Combat Training.

After graduating from Stuart Robinson High School, Blackey, where he played varsity football, he was employed as a Weightman for the H. C. Combs Coal Company in Whitesburg.

In-law troubles?

In Lincoln's first race for president, he got only two votes in Lexington, where his wife had scores of relatives.

New '61 Chevy with Jet-smooth ride!

Impala 4-Door Sedan—Jet-smooth traveler that rivals the luxury cars in everything but price

The '61 Chevy loves to go because it goes so well. Purrs along pavements like a happy tabby. Takes rough roads in stride and all roads in style.

Just why does a Jet-smooth Chevy treat riders as royally as the high-priced luxury cars? It all came about through a delightful blend of Full Coil suspension, precision-balanced wheels, unique chassis cushioning, and a superb Body by Fisher insulated to hush away road sounds. All this adds up to less sway, less jounce, less dip, less dive, less tilt, less noise, less . . . well you name it.

Now combine this Jet-smooth ride with conveniences to pamper you and roominess to relax in. Add a full measure of quiet good looks. Voilà, you've got Chevy's formula.

And the proof is in the riding. When you sample a Jet-smooth Chevy at your Chevrolet dealer's we think you'll find it just to your taste.

LETCHER SCHOOL STYLE

LINCOLN DAY DINNER

Folks in the Letcher School area gathered February 10 to honor one of Kentucky's best known natives and to add to the scholarship fund maintained by the Letcher Parent-Teacher Association. First, everybody ate dinner, and then the group watched a portrayal of President Abraham Lincoln in "This is Your Life, Abe Lincoln."

The program, written by Mrs. Lundy Adams, a teacher at the school, was modeled after a television show. Guests in period costumes appeared to remind Lincoln of various incidents in his life. School pupils performed folk dances and a waltz which were among the president's favorites. Folk singers sang three tunes typical of Lincoln's time, "Barbara Ellen," "The Blue Tail Fly" and "40 Years Ago." A girls' trio sang other songs Lincoln liked.

The Mountain Eagle's camera was there to catch these pictures.

Patsy Ruth Back, Mary Lou Back and Hester Elizabeth McIntyre sang several songs which were popular favorites during Lincoln's time.

Pupils in Mrs. Lundy Adams' fifth and sixth grade classes fashioned these dolls to represent members of the family of Mary Todd Lincoln. The project went along with their reading of a book about the Todds, who lived in Lexington. Dolls were on display in the school library, along with many articles which were in use during Lincoln's day. The exhibit included some quilts more than 100 years old.

Watson Adams (left) served as master of ceremonies; he's also president of the Letcher PTA. Clyde Back (second from left) portrayed a friend of Lincoln, and Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield Dixon were Abraham and Mary Todd Lincoln.

Letcher County School Superintendent Sanford Adams and Mrs. Adams (left) were guests of Jeff Mayes (in patriotic hat), principal of Letcher. Mrs. Mayes and Mitzi Mayes.

Candidates wouldn't miss a chance to shake hands with a few hundred voters for anything. In fact, Lester Short (right) who is not a candidate, was able to persuade several to donate to the PTA scholarship fund. Others are (from left) Wash Bates, John Duke, James M. Caudill, Kem Whitaker (a member of the Letcher County Board of Education), and Claude Collins.

The line of several hundred persons to be fed wound all around the school's lunchroom. Tables were decorated with red candles and other articles of patriotic motif, and many of the women wore centennial dresses and the men wore red, white and blue top hats. Food was donated by PTA members who also paid for their own meals. One Letcher patron remarked that women didn't ask "What do I have to bring?" but instead wanted to know "Can I do anything else?"

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I must find a new home for my household pet. He is male, 38 years old, 5'11, weighs 175 pounds, is in excellent health, has a good disposition, is well-educated, amusing, fine singing voice, superb dancer, doesn't drink, gamble or chase women. He's good looking, well mannered and has a fine sense of humor.

By profession this man is a writer, which is part of the problem. He writes checks---on our joint account, to which he has contributed nothing in three years. He has plenty of ambition and attained the height of that ambition when he learned he could live without working.

I've had him less than five years and am not attached to him. Anyone who wants him can have him if she's willing to pick up (the tab, that is) where I left off. I'm signing my name and address and hope this letter will produce immediate results. --MRS. ---

Dear Mrs. ---: Sorry, I can't print your name and address. First, it's against the rules of this column to put one reader in touch with another. Second, I'm afraid you'd be bombarded with offers.

You didn't ask for advice, but I happen to have a little that might come in handy. Your husband sounds as if he has some fine qualities. With proper handling he could still turn out all right. I recommend a visit to a marriage counselor.

Some women are so darned overpowering they make a guy feel he doesn't HAVE to do anything. Just don't make the mistake of throwing out the baby with the bath water.

Dear Ann Landers: Like so many others I have a problem I can't solve alone. I've been married 13 years. We have two children--one in school, and a small boy almost four.

I get up and make breakfast for myself and the girl and then I send her off to school. My wife sleeps till noon. When the boy gets up he wanders around the house, stands on a chair, gets into the breadbox and makes himself jam sandwiches. I'm afraid he'll hurt himself one of these days. Some evenings there is no dinner prepared and I have to make it. How can I make her see that it's a wife's responsibility to take care of her family? Her idea of living is to start playing gin-rummy at 9:00 P.M. and get to bed at 1:00 A.M. Please help me. ---LOST

Dear Lost: You need more help than I can give you in a single letter. Tell your wife that she must go with you to a marriage counselor or a clergyman. She's living a shameful parasitic existence.

You must make every effort to see that she gets the outside help that she needs---for her sake as well as for the sake of the family.

Dear Ann Landers: I, too, went through the unhappy weight period, and may I tell Patsy and every husband who has an overweight wife how my husband and I licked the problem together?

Ted is gentle and considerate. He would never call me a slob--even though he may have thought it. After our third son was born I was immense. Ted would say to me, "Honey, I wish you'd wear that pretty black dress I like so well." He knew the dress was a size 14 and I was about four sizes larger.

After a few months I had to admit to myself that I'd lost all interest in clothes and was just plain dowdy. Not only did I look like a cow but I was beginning to act like one. I went to the doctor and asked him to put me on a strict diet.

When I told my husband he was delighted. Every few days he'd compliment me. I began to feel better mentally and physically within two weeks. When my oldest son said to me, "Mom, I think you are so much better looking now than when you were 'husky'! I knew I had won."

Most people who have a tendency toward obesity must watch themselves constantly. It takes encouragement and understanding. The husband who helps instead of hurts will be loved forever. --SIZE 14.

Dear Size 14: Many thanks for your excellent letter. The person who has been bitten by the wolf can best describe its fangs.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a widow 60 years of age. My son, who is 31, is a bachelor and he lives with me. My husband passed away 5 years ago and my son and I have a pleasant, peaceful life.

Many people have made snide remarks about this, hinting that something must be wrong with him, or with me. Should a son be kicked out of a home he enjoys just because his father passed away? Gene always lived at home and so far as I am concerned he can stay here as long as he likes. Do you see anything wrong with this? I would appreciate your comments. -- MOTHER

Dear Mother: Most men, by the time they're 30, prefer to live away from the parental home. One who does not, however, need not be considered peculiar. It could simply be that he is comfortable there and has no desire to move out.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers if you write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How to Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self addressed, stamped envelope. Send them to her in care of The Mountain Eagle.

Swisher heads new district

Jack R. Swisher of Whitesburg has been named manager of a 22-county district office opened in Whitesburg this month by the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

The territory has previously been handled from the company's Bowling Green office.

Swisher, an employee of Equitable since 1950, has an office in the Bank of Whitesburg building.

In his new position, Swisher will be responsible for selection and training of new agents throughout a 22-county area in Eastern Kentucky.

Swisher is a native of Whitesburg, son of Mrs. Sinda Swisher and the late R.N. Swisher. He was graduated from Whitesburg High School and served four years as a pilot in the Air Force during World War II.

He served as manager of the Letcher Credit Bureau and teller at the Bank of Whitesburg before joining Equitable. He is a member of the Lions Club and an elder in Graham Memorial Presbyterian Church.

He and his wife, the former Doris Crawford, have two sons and two daughters.

Archie Adams, deputy sheriff, dies at home

Archie Adams, Deputy Sheriff of Letcher County, died at his home, Craft's Colly, Feb. 17.

He is survived by one son, Jimmy Ray Adams, Dayton, Ohio; four brothers and two sisters.

The funeral was held Monday at the residence, with burial in the Adams Cemetery, Craft's Colly. Craft Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

SIMPLICITY, COLOR KEYNOTE

Simplicity keynotes spring styles; yet along with this simplicity, you'll see much exciting color in spring styles, notes Mrs. Verna McQuiston, UK Extension Service clothing specialist.

The bright colors present a question to shoppers for spring -- to buy or not to buy? Mrs. McQuiston recommends that you think twice before choosing the very intense colors or some of the off-beat combinations you'll see this spring.

She suggests that you ask yourself these questions before buying: Is the color becoming? Not many women look well in very bright colors. Lovely skin and personal coloring usually are necessary to wear such colors effectively. Will the color fit into my wardrobe? Do I have the accessories to go with it?

Will the color obviously shout "spring '61?" Most persons wear their clothes for several seasons -- and colors as well as styles can be dated.

Many easy-to-wear colors, in pale, medium and bright shades, will be "high style" this spring, too, Mrs. McQuiston points out. She mentions some of these: neutrals, such as all the beige family; off-whites and white; black-and-white; blues, from navy through medium blue to pale; lovely greens; and yellows, pale or sunny, as well as intense.

McRoberts Ptluck supper held at home of Nelson Riddle

by Flora Scott

Pot luck suppers are lots of fun. Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Noble Riddle had in the following for pot luck and a social hour; Mr. and Mrs. Warnie Flint Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Douglas SeHorne, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shade and boys, Mrs. George Lundy, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Scott, Miss Jeanette Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Suptin of Dunham.

A mistake in last week's news. Should have read Wess Branham had died, not West Brashear.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Donny Manning was damaged by fire and water Saturday evening. The fire, they think, started from the electric wiring in a closet. With the quick response of the Neon-Fleming fire department, the damage was slight.

Mrs. E.J. Sparks is now a patient in Whitesburg Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Bertha Brewer and Mrs. R.D. Tolliver are home from the hospital and are feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Freeman were here to attend the funeral of Lawrence Griffith, who died in Maryland.

Kathy Hancock celebrates birthday

by Gertrude Gambill

Kathy Hancock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hancock, celebrated her sixth birthday on Saturday, February 18th by having her playmates in for a birthday lunch at her home.

After lunch the three-tier cake baked by her mother and beautifully decorated in pink and blue was cut by Kathy and served to her guests with ice cream, after which a number of games were played.

Those joining in the fun were Jeanne Marie Holtzclaw, Kim Farley, Carol Ann Litts, Vicki Reed, Charles Holbrook Jr., and Johnny Bentley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ison of Myra were entertaining on their 66th wedding anniversary on Sunday, February 19, in the home of their daughter, Mrs. J.M. Martin. Others enjoying the occasion were Mrs. Georgia Cantrell of Wheelwright and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Childers.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Sexton are announcing the arrival of a baby boy, Saturday, at the Whitesburg Memorial Hospital.

Book circulation at both the Jenkins and Letcher County libraries will increase several times over. With a new bookmobile and larger book selection, bookmobile patrons will have a much wider choice of reading matter, and a much larger number of "book stops" can be provided, extending the benefits of a public library into every hollow of Letcher County.

Both libraries will have additional shelf space to take care of the new books which will be available.

The two libraries also will have to be open longer hours.

Also present at the meeting with Kirk were Mrs. Allen Judd, treasurer, Mrs. Zenneth Bentley, Mrs. Harry Caudill, Charles Jenkins, chairman, all of the Letcher County Board, and a guest from the Jenkins library, Mrs. Millard Preston.

THE NEW ELVIS PRESLEY, sans sideburns, makes his triumphant return to films following his Army service, in the Hal Wallis Technicolor romantic comedy, "G.I. Blues," due . . . at the . . . Theatre. The Paramount song-and-dance production co-stars shapely dancer, Juliet Prowse.
